Galactic Deep Sea Beneath the Earth - Deep Sea Journeys in the National Geographic Channel 2017. In the darkest depths of space, one of the ocean's rarest life forms turns its back on the sun. Appalachian State University researcher Allan Strafella and a team of scientists struggled to contain their excitement when they first surveyed the bottom of an iron mine. Most other men would have quit by now, but not these 68-year-old coauthors. Their obsession is the deep sea, and they know this gig is the deepest of their career. The survey was an entire mission, with the team performing remotely operated vehicle work and retrieving nine samples of mineralized rock and water. Strafella will analyze and catalog any trace elements and fossils in search of evidence that would reveal the accessibility of habitable zones in other planetary systems. From the bottom of the mine, Strafella and his fellow researchers collaborate as though they were still on the project together, and also as though they were on a coffee break in a fast food outlet. GOLDEN PEARLS OF BOSCO - An affordable luxury you can enjoy all year round with this beautiful Bosco Campo Alta Gilded Paintjob. Chosen from the most popular 'colors of spring' paint, the textured Gilded paintjob will provide your Campo Alta with a golden glow. Feature this Bosco off-road vehicle with the Dutch signature style and golden sparkle with this affordable paint job with a Chocolat quality shine. 'Golden' paintjobs are sold one colour at a time in a kit, so there are no two identical vehicles. This colour features a deep red on the sides of the vehicle and yellow on the roof. The yellow roof of your Campo Alta vehicle is more gold than green, thus the name Gilded. The Gilded paintjob is very easy to apply, but should not be cut in the centre by mistake due to the likelihood of small air bubbles. Applying the Gilded paint is more difficult than standard Bosco paint jobs, as there is no patch work like the 'Torero' paintjob. For more information on Bosco's standard paintjobs please visit our website at Intended for use on a Campo Alta only, this Gilded paint

A place for indie authors and readers. A Witch For The Ages Thursday, July 16, 2017 This powerful book is the story of a world that saved itself, one that took action when faced by an imminent threat. This is what makes it worth your time because it is a wonderful concept and will mean something different to each person who reads it. The writing is wondrous and the stories are very moving. Those who have experienced horrible things can revel in the knowing that there are wonderful things out there, just waiting to be enjoyed. From a reviewer: The Muscovite vampire books have been on my table of books to read for some time, but have always been somewhat busy (sometimes so busy that I caught myself just to open them instead). But this time, I just had to give in and read them. And I am glad I did. In A Witch for Ages, Meredith Star Patrick slips into the story behind the first foray into vampire killing we could maybe call the Muscovite uprising. She creates an action packed, fast moving, and confusing story without losing the focus of it. I'm happy she did, because watching the story unfold is impossible without knowing our characters and their history first. And what a history it is. Meredith takes us on a journey that is completely captivating, unpredictable, and refreshing. I can't wait to start reading the next book. ~ About The Author: Meredith Lee is an American author, poet and storyteller living in Paris. She was born and raised in Northeast Pennsylvania. She grew up attending a small rural Catholic school and spent her last years of school attending Manhattan's Columbia University. She is very proud of her family's history of being part of a tribe of great artists who support each other and the arts.
